Transformed by Travels

Creating personalized journeys for each individual customer

Presented By:

Michael Emerson

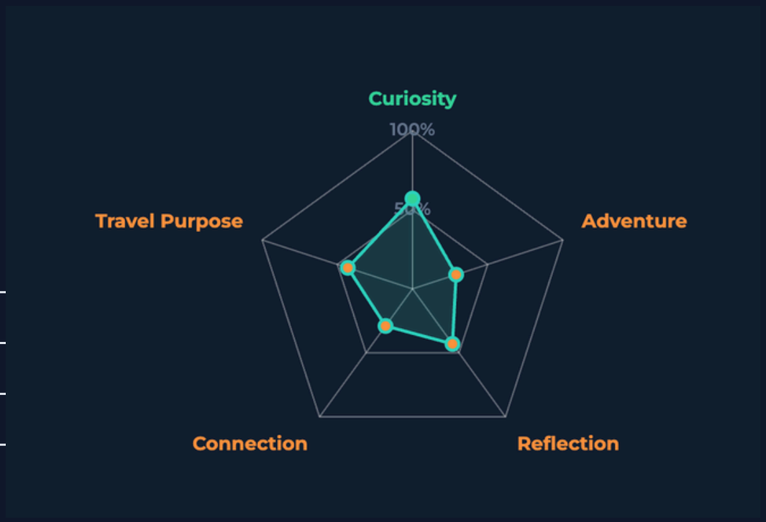

www.TransformedByTravels.com

The Problem

Travel should change you.
Most trips do not.

- The most meaningful journeys aren't accidental — they're intentional
- Most trip planning fails to take the entire person into account
- Travel technology does not facilitate collaboration with all involved.
- When the trip ends, the connection ends and integration never happens

Introducing MyJourneys

Travel planned around who you are

1

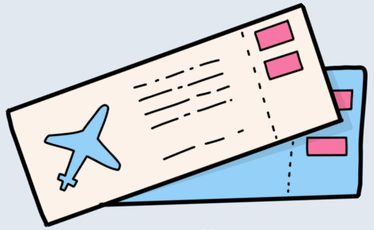

Every traveler has a unique travel DNA--risk tolerance, plan/ad hoc, adventurism, extraversion.

2

MyJourneys reveals the Travel DNA and then filters everything through the genotype. We call it the blender.

3

MyJourneys personalizes destinations, guides, activities, and day-by-day plans according to someone's travel DNA

The Customer Journey: Discovery to Planning

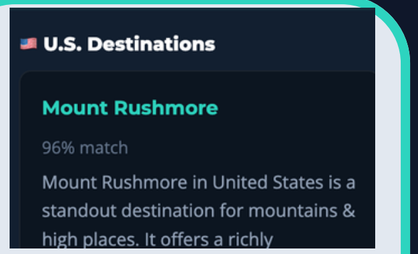

The Pathway to a Trip That Redefines someone

Traveler receives their unique travel archetype and other scores to drive the process.

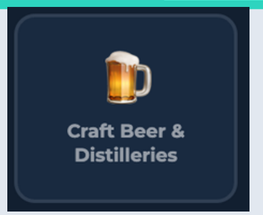

A database of over 4,000 destinations is scored for match to individual archetypes and passions

Destinations are recommended based on traveler DNA

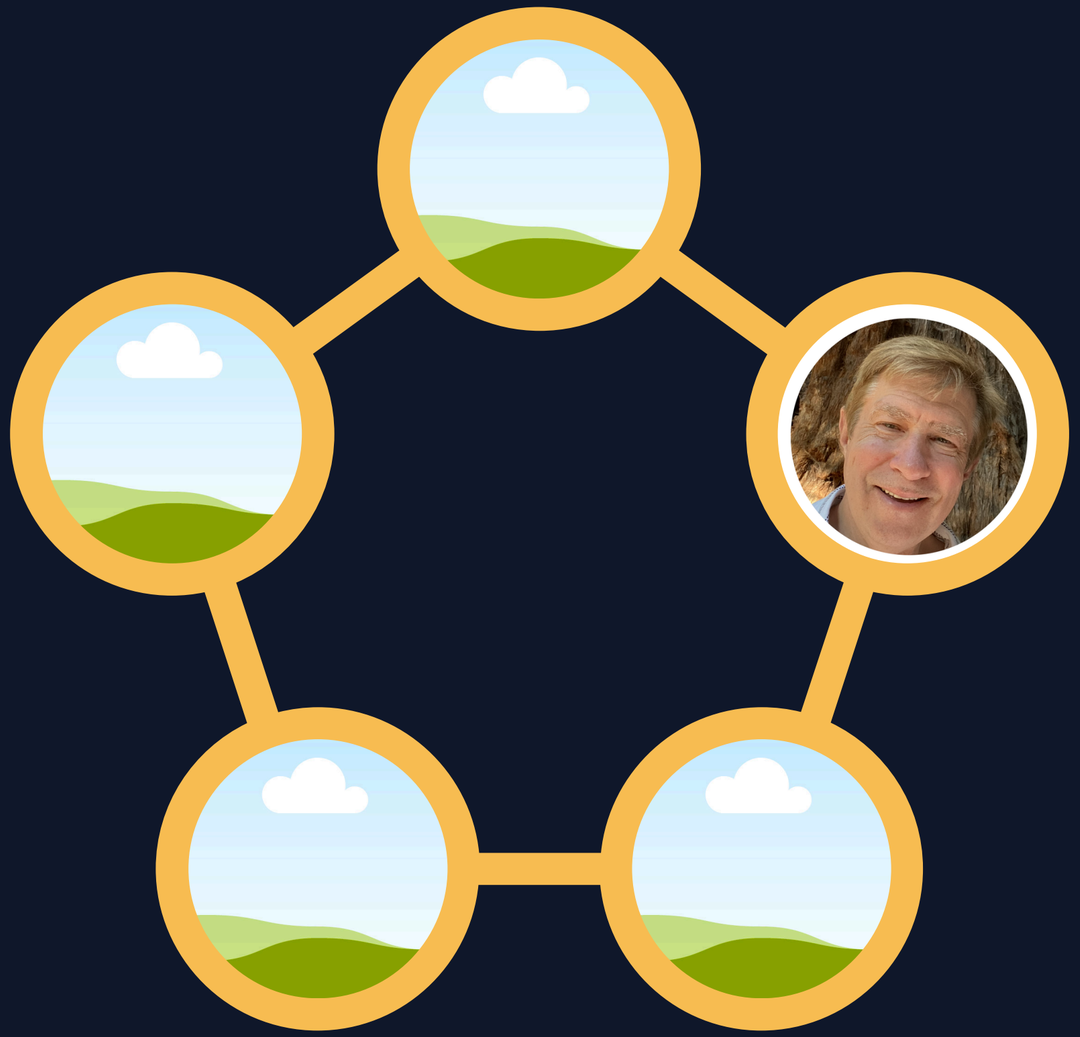

Q4

Nearly 40 activity types are also offered by traveler DNA

Journeys are Better Together

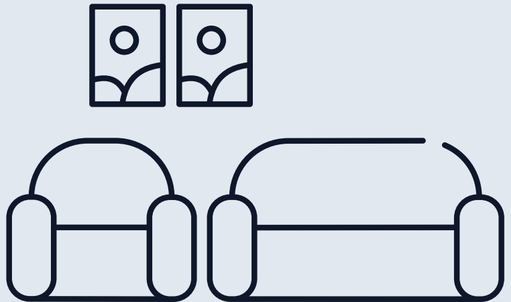

MyJourneys finds a page that everyone can stay together on

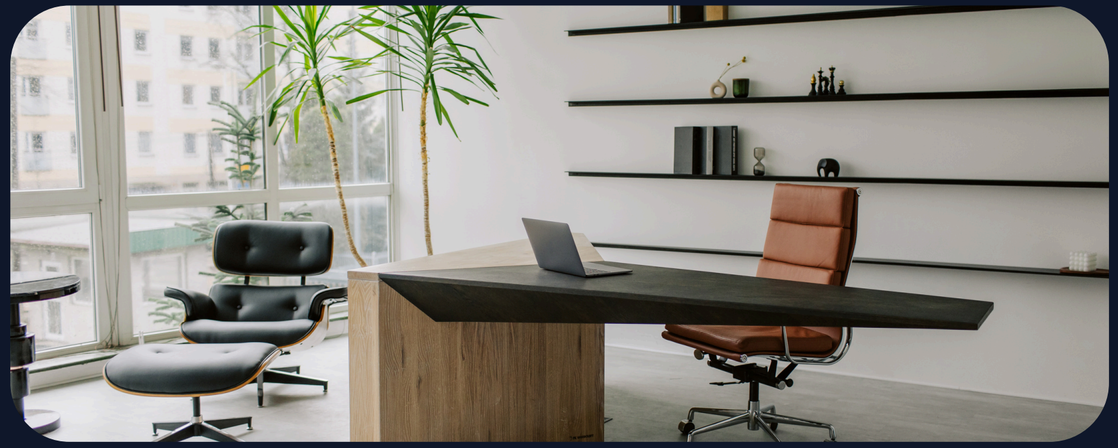

Product Snapshot

1. VR headset and mobile compatibility
2. Library of furniture, materials, and color schemes
3. Real-time editing and collaboration
4. Integration with professional design software

Business Model

- Subscription plans for designers and developers
- Furniture store partnerships with in-platform product placement
- Pay-per-project access for individual homeowners
- White-label licensing for real estate companies

Traction

Prototype demo received high engagement at home expos

Positive feedback from pilot projects with homeowners

Early interest from interior design firms

Partnership discussions with local furniture retailers

What We Need

Funding for VR development and hardware

Retail partners for product placement

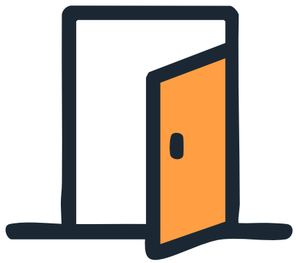

Marketing support to reach homeowners and developers

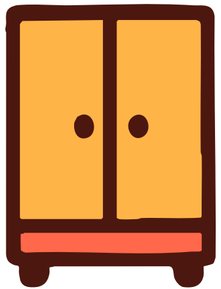

Closing Statement

- We turn imagination into reality before the first brick is laid.
- Join us in revolutionizing interior design with VR.

Resource Page

Resource Page

